

East Bay News

Massive Lego display in San Leandro

Updated at 06:16 PM today

TAGS: san leandro, art, east bay news
Comment Now Email Print Report a typo

SAN LEANDRO (KGO) -- A massive Lego display has gone up in San Leandro. It recreates countrysides, villages, and even has running trains. There's also a medieval town and a carnival with working rides. Star Wars fans can check out the Millennium Falcon and battle scenes.

Most of it is the creation of Johannes Van Galen. He says he does it to relieve stress, "It's just a relaxing thing. It keeps your mind on something, focused. If you have problems or anything, you just do something else."

Van Galen estimates about a million pieces make up the displays, though he won't even guess how much he's spent on it all.

(Copyright ©2012 KGO-TV/DT. All Rights Reserved.)

Get more East Bay News »

TAGS: san leandro, art, east bay news
Comment Now Email Print Report a typo

Recommend

Send

One person recommends this. Be the first of your friends.